EDITING A PAGE

A screenshot of the Wikipedia "Editing Art" page. The page title is "Editing Art". Below the title is a toolbar with icons for bold, italic, link, unlink, list, and other editing functions. The main editing area contains the text `[[Image:Example.jpg]]` and `{{Special:NewFiles}}`. A speech bubble with the text "EDITING AREA" points to this section. Below the editing area is a "Summary:" field. A speech bubble with the text "If the editing is a minor change, check this box" points to the checkbox labeled "This is a minor edit". Another speech bubble with the text "Watch the page so that changes will be listed in your watchlist and appear in bold on the page" points to the checkbox labeled "Watch this page". At the bottom, there are buttons for "Save page", "Show preview", "Show changes", and "Cancel". A speech bubble with the text "Save after editing" points to the "Save page" button. Another speech bubble with the text "Preview the page" points to the "Show preview" button. A small disclaimer at the bottom states: "Please note that all contributions to Dickinson College Wiki may be edited or moved by other contributors. If you are also promising us that you wrote this yourself, or copied it from another source, please add a page template or similar free resource (see D permission!)"
