Varying n. Each image shows a radius reduction factor r of 10. Use the same number of vertex jumps J for each image and draw the resulting figures with pencil and ruler. Choose a value of J (from 1 − 7) knowing that for some J you must go around the image more than once before finding the next vertex (if n < J).